

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Esteemed Jury of Design + Art Leaders Set to Review 2023 CODAwards

Commissioned art and design projects are eligible, with a focus on collaboration

Madison, WI, 4/6/2023 - CODAworx, the hub of the commissioned art economy at the center of the global movement of creative activism, is accepting entries for the 11th CODAwards: Collaboration of Design + Art. From the very beginning, Interior Design magazine has been the National Media Partner for the prestigious awards program; over the years, CODAworx and Interior Design have brought together leading designers, architects, and artists on juries.

Past winning projects have represented not only the creative prowess of top visionaries in interior, architectural, or public spaces, but also symbolize how art and design bring peace, prosperity, and profound meaning to our lives. Last year's awards drew 406 submissions from 27 countries, representing over $94 million in artwork commission budgets.

Submissions are now being accepted; the deadline is May 31. A special CODAwards Celebration Party! will take place in October at CODASummit in San Jose to recognize this year's winners and honor the values the CODAwards represent.
